ENGLISH LABOR DECLARES FOR TAX ON FORTUNES OVER £5,000 TO PAY WAR DEBTS

Calls for Revision of Treaties and Modification of German Reparations Demands.

EGYPT INDEPENDENCE.

Proposes Also That India Be Granted Full Self Government.

LONDON, Oct. 25 (Associated Press).—A manifesto of the Labor Party issued this evening advocates removal of the burden of the national debt through the creation of a "war debt redemption fund by a special graduated levy on fortunes exceeding £5,000."

It further declares for the revision of the Peace Treaty and German Reparations, for an international conference to arrange the freedom of the straits, for independence in Egypt and self-government in India.

The manifesto says that labor will not penalize thrift, but that it will require some restitution from the profiteers out of the huge fortunes made in the war. The taxation of and values also is advocated.

The manifesto is signed by members of the executive committee. The party declares itself against revolution and says "Labor's programme is the bulwark against a violent upheaval and class war."

"A Democratic Government can be made effective in this country without bloodshed or violence," the manifesto says. "The policy of the Labor Party is to bring about a more equitable distribution of the Nation's wealth by constitutional means. This is neither Bolshevism nor Communism, but common sense justice."

The manifesto recognizes the urgent need of lifting the dead burden of the national debt from the country's trade and industry.

LIPTON WILL TRY FOR CUP IN 1924

Thinks Mug Should Go Where It Can Be Filled.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. Sir Thomas Lipton intends to challenge for the America's Cup again in 1924. Sir Thomas, visiting here, said his desire to retrieve the yacht cup is as strong as ever.

"I think it would be fitting to take the old mug back to where it can be satisfactorily filled," he said.

Dail Eireann Passes Bill For Irish Constitution

Free State Agreement, According to Its Terms, Must Be Acted Upon by British Parliament, On Dec. 6.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—The Dail Eireann to-day passed the Irish Constitution Bill, which is the ratification of the Irish Free State Treaty with the British Government.

The British Parliament is to take action on the Free State Treaty on Dec. 6.

The new Constitution came up to-day for its third reading. John Milroy, one of the Deputies, declared that the adoption of the treaty was the grandest thing which had happened in Ireland since the battle of Kinsale.

LLOYD WARREN IS KILLED BY FALL OUT HOTEL WINDOW

Body of Rich Architect Found in Central Park West Alley.

POLICE SAY SUICIDE.

Whitney Warren Insists His Brother Accidentally Fell From Window.

Lloyd Warren, head of the Institute of Fine Arts, a rich and distinguished patron of the arts, an architect, and brother of Whitney Warren, also an architect of international fame, was found dead this morning in the delivery alleyway to the west of the hotel in which he had lived at No. 1 West 64th Street.

His body was discovered clad only in a pair of silk pajamas. The police reported it as a case of suicide, in his belief that Mr. Warren had leaped from a window of his apartment on the sixth floor. But Whitney Warren declared his conviction that his brother had fallen from the window during one of the attacks of dyspepsia to which he had been subject since motor accident in Italy last summer.

A driver for a Sheffield Farms Dairy wagon, delivering the usual morning's milk at the hotel, discovered the body huddled in the alleyway. He called Fred Williams, janitor of the house next door, No. 9 West 64th, and they notified the hotel management.

It was decided that Mr. Warren's death had occurred three or four hours before the body was found. Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, Assistant Medical Examiner, stated later at the morgue, that he had investigated the case closely and there was nothing whatever to warrant the suggestion that death was due to suicide.

"The window from which Mr. Warren fell," said Dr. Gonzales, "is one that I almost fell from myself in making the investigation. The sill is only 18 inches from the floor and in front of it is a low window seat. I infer that Mr. Warren may have opened the window for air or leaned out, but I am confident the fall was accidental."

Word was sent to Whitney Warren at once at his home, No. 16 East 47th Street, and within a short time he was at his brother's apartment, to which the body had been carried. "I am sure my brother fell from his window," Mr. Warren said. "Last summer, while motoring along a road under repair near Rome, his car ran over some rough stones and he was flung violently against the roof of the car. This cut an eight-inch gash in his scalp and caused him afterward to suffer from periodic spells of dizziness. Although the wound occurred last summer, it had not yet completely healed."

"I am sure my brother would not have killed himself deliberately. He had everything to live for—plenty of money and a devotion to his art, for which he was ready to make all sorts of sacrifices. He was somewhat afflicted with somnambulism and I know that recently he sat up in bed talking in his sleep of the motor accident in Italy. It is possible he may have walked to the window in his sleep. The sill is only knee high and it may be that he walked to his death in that way."

"My brother entertained several friends at dinner last night in his apartment and intended to have others at dinner to-night. So that's (Continued on Fourth Page.)

Two sets of twins and five of triplets born—intend to go through Alphabet for Names.

WARSAW, Ind., Oct. 25.—Five sets of triplets and two sets of twins have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott in ten years of married life. The Scotts, parents of thirteen living children, to-day boarded a westbound train in search for enough land to provide sustenance and employment for the whole family.

O. E. CROMWELL SUES FOR DIVORCE IN PARIS COURT

Former Miss Beale and Husband Separated Last September.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Oliver Eaton Cromwell, eldest son of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, has started a divorce action in Paris against his wife, who formerly was Miss Hope Truxton Beale of Stratford.

James H. R. Cromwell, a brother of Oliver, has confirmed the report of the suit. The couple have been living apart since last September, and the court's decision in Paris is expected this month.

It is stated the allegations in the action contain "nothing that would reflect on the moral character of either party." The couple are said to have decided last January they must part and it was not first understood Mrs. Cromwell would start the suit. She failed to do so and Mr. Cromwell, therefore, started it himself.

The couple have a son, Eaton Jr., five years old.

MISS MELLON TO WED FATHER'S AID, REPORT

Is Only Daughter of Secretary of Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Reports were current in society circles here to-day that announcement would be made soon of the second romance within President Harding's "Cabinet Family."

Miss Alice Mellon, only daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, is to wed her father's chief assistant, S. Parker Gilbert, Under Secretary of the Treasury, according to the reports. The offices of both Mellon and Gilbert to-day declined to say anything regarding the reports. Miss Mellon was said to be at the Mellon summer home in Massachusetts.

Alice Mellon, heiress to one of the large fortunes of the country, is twenty years old. Gilbert is thirty. He is a "holdover" from the Wilson Administration, who was retained by Mellon because of his knowledge of Treasury affairs. He is a graduate of Harvard.

WADLEIGH GIRLS SEE Hylan, HEAR ABOUT VERMOUTH

Budget Hearing Sounds Like Bartenders' Convention to High School Pupils.

CAME TO STUDY CIVICS

Stewart Browne Charges Budget Is $31,000,000, Not $11,000,000 Bigger.

Fifty Wadleigh High School girls, all serious students of civics and proud of their city, attended a Board of Estimate meeting in City Hall to-day. They wanted to look upon the face of the Mayor and learn how he made up the tremendous budget of $31,000,000. It was a great moment in their young lives as they grouped themselves in the front row seats and watched the austere looking members of the board file in.

"What a terrible responsibility these officials must have," exclaimed one girl in a stage whisper. But hush! Mayor Hylan was seated and he was talking. Was he talking about the budget to these knowledge-thirsty girls, whose ages averaged about thirteen? No, he was discussing cocktails. He and the whole board for every member present took a sip or two of the conversation.

"The question has come up here and we might as well settle it right now," began the Mayor. "It is this: Is Vermont used for medicinal purposes. That is, is it used for medicinal ailments?"

By this time the high school girls were looking at one another in blank amazement. "I guess," said an onlooker, "those kids think they've stumbled by mistake into an ex-bartenders' convention."

"A cocktail without Vermont is something like a clam without a shell," said Bronx Borough President Bruckner, who qualifies as a connoisseur, despite the fact that he manufactures soft water.

"But," persisted Mayor Hylan. "Do physicians recommend Vermont? Do they recommend Vermont cocktails?"

PENN TO PAY 4 PER CENT.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Pennsylvania Railroad to-day declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent, dividend payable Nov. 25 on stock of record Nov. 1. Since May, 1921, quarterly dividend paid has been 1 per cent, having then been reduced from long established 6 per cent, per annum rate.

Offices of Borough Presidents To Cost $12,685,923 Above 1917

Explanations Fail to Account for Swarms of Employees Whose Work Overlaps.

The cost of the operations of the offices of Presidents of the five boroughs for 1923 is $12,685,923 more than in 1917. In that year the total costs were $8,838,351. The proposed budget for 1923 appropriates $21,569,284.

The increases in the various boroughs have been:

	1917	1923
Manhattan	$2,720,000	$5,521,802
Bronx	1,187,596	2,855,784
Brooklyn	2,138,250	5,744,001
Queens	2,123,080	5,315,476
Richmond	117,512	1,650,298
Total	$8,838,351	$21,569,284

When the various former cities and villages were consolidated in what is now New York City, one of the main arguments inducing that step was that a unified Government would save expenses. But the Borough Governments are costing much more than Government costs before consolidation, and this expense is in addition to the big costs of City and County Governments. Borough Presidents explain that the great increase of expenses in their departments is due to their taking over new activities, enlarged paving and sewer programs, enhanced costs of fuel, material and other items. But they do not explain that their payrolls are crowded with swarms of employees whose work overlaps or duplicates that of employees of regular city departments. There is a multiplicity of engineers, carried on the payroll at a big total expense whose functions could be dispensed with by the establishment of a central city engineering bureau as The Evening World long ago advocated.

FATE OF ACCUSED IN BERGEN MURDER RESTS WITH JURY

May Consider Guilt of Defendants Individually, Judge Instructs.

CLINE REMAINS STOLID.

Motion for Acquittal of Thornton Girl and Scullion Denied.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 25.—The case of George F. Cline, Alice Thornton and Charles Scullion, charged with the murder of Jack Bergen on Aug. 25, was given to the jury of six men and six women, with Miss Susan A. Squire, twenty-three-year-old stenographer, as foreman, in the Bergen County Court by Justice Parker at 1 o'clock.

Justice Hart in his instructions told the jury that in arriving at a verdict it might consider the three defendants collectively or individually.

Only one witness was introduced by the defense after court was convened. Capt. James P. Egan, formerly of the United States Field Artillery, testifying he had taught Bergen to become an expert in the use of a .45 Colt automatic in 1918, when Bergen was a soldier. Cline, too, testified Bergen had a Colt pistol in the struggle in Cline's home after the two men had gone upstairs to "fight it out" like men.

In rebuttal, the prosecution introduced statements signed the day after the shooting by the three defendants. As the case rapidly approached its conclusion, Cline maintained the stolidity of manner characteristic of him throughout the proceedings except when he was on the stand. Miss Thornton sat very quietly, with a hand pressed against her cheek, staring at the floor. Scullion's gaze wandered over the room and occasionally at the jury.

AFFIDAVIT OF EYE-WITNESS HINTS IDENTITY OF SLAYER: NAMES WOMAN COMPANION

Sworn Statement of Mrs. Gibson Reveals She Knew Rector and Also Protested Voice—Prosecutor Mott Says He Will Not Wait on Jury and Arrest May Come at Any Hour.

Man in Congregation, and Not Relatives of Rector, Reported to Have Sought Proofs of Affair After Mrs. Mills Rejected Advances—Singer Also Suspected Telephone Tapper.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, in her affidavit made after her examination with other witnesses here a week ago last Monday, said she recognized the woman who cried out by name in remonstrance to the man who shot down the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills. She also swore that before the shooting began she recognized the Rev. Mr. Hall.

Whether she recognized the man who did the shooting before or after a number of other persons whose names have been mentioned were shown to her cannot be certainly established. In her statement, however, if it is accepted as true, is a practical identification of the man who actually fired the shots.

Special Prosecutor W. A. Mott after reported to him to-day at Newark that State troopers who have obtained new information had gone to their commander, Col. Schwartzkopf, in Trenton, to request orders to act, said:

"We are likely to make an arrest at any time now. I have more than caught up with the work which was done before I was called into the case and there have been some discoveries since."

"Are you going to take the case before the Grand Jury?" he was asked. "Certainly I am," he replied. "But I have the nerve to make an arrest as soon as I believe I am right without waiting for the Grand Jury. And I shall do so."

The attention of the local inquirers to-day has been directed to find a reasonable explanation for the presence of part of a bunch of letters from Mrs. Mills to Mr. Hall on their bodies.

Vestryman Ralph V. M. Gorsline, the suave, imperturbable vestryman of St. John's, who knows more gossip of the complicated relations of the minister and communicants of the church—and tells less about them at this time—than any other, is probably the first witness who will be called by Mr. Mott when he returns to Somerville to-morrow.

Both Prosecutors Stricker and Beekman have repeatedly questioned Mr. Gorsline. "They cannot get away from the belief that he has heard more than he has told regarding what

The robbers obtained no booty except a $50 stickpin one of them picked from a showcase. They ran across the street and leaped into an automobile, at the wheel of which a waiting chauffeur sat. A fourth man, acting as lookout, joined them from the sidewalk in front of the store and their sped down Wyckoff Street around the corner into Hiram Street disappearing without any one getting its license number.

Capt. Dan Carey of the Williamsburg detective district, sent out a general alarm, with a description of the men.

Kamen was alone when the two robbers appeared. One asked to see a watch and when Kamen moved to ward the window the other poked a pistol at him and told him to hold a his hands. At the moment, Mr. Seigel walked through the door to inquire about repairs to a watch he had left. Kamen moved to defend himself. The gunman fired and the flight followed.
